Dear Pastor and Church,

I was pleased to learn that Pastor Rick Carter is transitioning into a new ministry role that will allow him to focus more on writing and traveling for public speaking engagements. I believe that Pastor Carter possesses remarkable insight into the practical application of biblical truths, particularly in the realm of counseling. We have enrolled several of our staff members in his counseling course and maintain a stock of his books to serve as valuable resources for those in our congregation who are struggling with specific issues. There is a genuine need for quality materials that address these challenges from a biblical perspective without misinterpreting Scripture. I firmly believe that Pastor Carter's writings and teachings accomplish this effectively. Recently, we had the privilege of utilizing him as a speaker at one of our conferences, and his contribution was immensely beneficial to our church.

I am confident that this new ministry will be of great help to many churches and pastors.
