

1 Corinthians 12:10 lists one of God's spiritual gifts He blesses some with as the gift of discernment. Bro. Rick Carter certainly exhibits this spiritual gift (among others) in his life and ministry. Bro. Carter has been a blessing to me, my family, my church, and so many others through his preaching, counseling, and ministering heart. God has certainly called and blessed Bro. Carter with a heart to serve, a mind to discern, and an assured hope to share with those who need help.

Dear Pastor,

I would like to greatly encourage you to consider having Brother and Mrs. Rick Carter Jr. to your church. I personally have invited Brother Carter to preach many different times for us, including regular church services, a family conference, and a missions conference. I would also like to express that we have him booked for an upcoming men's conference that we are hosting and a HOPE training conference to be scheduled in the near future. I can give personal testimony that the Lord has used him and his wife to strengthen our church family in so many ways through their investment in the people that I pastor. The Lord has also used Brother and Mrs. Carter to strengthen not only my wife and children in the ministry but myself included. My wife and I always look forward to hearing from the Carters. I have complete faith that the Lord will continue to use the Carters and that you will find them to be a very valuable asset where you minister also!

In Christ,

"A man is blessed in life to have one or two genuine friends. I am blessed in this way with Brother Rick Carter. We met around 2003 while he was traveling in evangelism. Over the years, he has offered counsel, support, and cooperation as we've worked together on various ministry projects.

Brother Carter's ministry is biblical, positive, and helpful. I am happy to recommend him to you.

Reaching the world with the gospel. That's the purpose of every New Testament church! Over the years, the church has taken many different avenues to accomplish this great task.

Ministries like rescue missions to reach the homeless and bus ministries to reach the children in our communities. As the multiplicity of issues surrounding addictions is on the rise around the world, it presents the church with a unique opportunity to meet people where they are with the life changing message of the Gospel. The H.O.P.E program is designed to aid the church in that venture. Written in such a way that you can follow it step by step or tailor it to fit your churches ministry, it's a perfect tool for such a pressing need.

Dr. Rick Carter's transparent and thoughtful seminars were not only grounded in Biblical theology but were truly insightful to present day struggles in relationships. His time with our church helped me personally and better equipped me to help others in their spiritual journey. He was a great help to all who attended. I highly recommend his ministry!
